

Danilov & Partners ranked by Chambers and Partners in the first research of the Russian FinTech market

Leading international directory Chambers and Partners has published the results of the first research of the Russian FinTech market. We are happy to be ranked in the first coverage of this rapidly growing area. We thank our clients for the positive feedback and the possibility to be a part of the fascinating projects.

The FinTech practice of Danilov & Partners combines our cross-border corporate, commercial and M&A experience with solid understanding of the blockchain technology and applicable legal issues.

Andrei Danilov, Managing Partner, was individually ranked by Chambers and Partners in the first research of the Russian FinTech market.

“Our firm has been among the first law firms globally to advise on FinTech related transactions and we will strive to remain among the leaders of this groundbreaking technology sector”, commented Mr Danilov.

In addition to Chambers and Partners, the firm and its lawyers are recommended by The Legal 500, IFLR1000 and Best Lawyers.

To view Chambers and Partners FinTech ranking results, please click here.